We are honored to represent Mark and Curt Ingwersen, as well as the rest of the Ingwersen family with this auction. Mark and Curt's dad, Robert, was known for his collection of antique and collectible tractors. He loved working on these tractors and making them his own. Over the years, the upkeep became too much, but the tractors were always stored in the shed. He took great pride in these tractors. The family made the effort to get all of the tractors running for this sale. Enjoy this wonderful collection of tractors, implements and more!
